

One of the most difficult conversations you might have with a loved one is dealing with end-of-life care. Being prepared makes all the difference to both patient and family. Hospice care can provide improved quality of life for client's end-of-life care and also support for their loved ones.

Bremo Pharmacy would like to introduce Sheila Stells with Medi Home Hospice. Medi Home Hospice strives to establish relationship with the client and family, to meet families where they are. Each situation is different and no plan is alike. Sheila is able to offer each client highly trained, small group of consistent caregivers who are ready to assure each client receives all the benefits of hospice care.

Hospice is covered under Medicare, Medicaid and private insurances. Hospice focuses on caring, not curing and in most cases, care is provided in the client's home. As your loved one meets the qualifying guidelines, they will not be turned away, regardless of age, religion, race or illness. Sheila and her team's goal is to focus on the healthcare provided in the home, wherever that might be. "Hospice care is focused on the quality of life for every life" and Sheila and her team are ready to help.
